

Evening Prayer

Saturday after the Nineteenth Sunday after Pentecost

Seek him who made the Pleiades and Orion, and turns deep darkness into the morning, and darkens the day into night; who calls for the waters of the sea and pours them out upon the surface of the earth: The Lord is his name.

Amos 5:8

Confession of Sin

Let us confess our sins against God and our neighbor.

Most merciful God,
we confess that we have sinned against you
in thought, word, and deed,
by what we have done,
and by what we have left undone.
We have not loved you with our whole heart;
we have not loved our neighbors as ourselves.
We are truly sorry and we humbly repent.
For the sake of your Son Jesus Christ,
have mercy on us and forgive us;
that we may delight in your will,
and walk in your ways,
to the glory of your Name. Amen.

Almighty God have mercy on us, forgive us all our sins through our Lord Jesus Christ, strengthen us in all goodness, and by the power of the Holy Spirit keep us in eternal life. Amen.

Invitatory and Psalter

Officiant O God, make speed to save us.

People O Lord, make haste to help us.

Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit: *
as it was in the beginning, is now, and will be for ever. Amen.
Alleluia.

O Gracious Light

O gracious light, pure brightness of the everliving Father in heaven, O Jesus Christ, holy and blessed! Now as we come to the setting of the sun, and our eyes behold the vesper light, we sing your praises, O God: Father, Son, and Holy Spirit. You are worthy at all times to be praised by happy voices, O Son of God, O Giver of Life, and to be glorified through all the worlds.

Bless the LORD, O my soul; *
 O LORD my God, how excellent is your greatness! you are clothed with majesty and splendor.
 You wrap yourself with light as with a cloak *
 and spread out the heavens like a curtain.
 You lay the beams of your chambers in the waters above; *
 you make the clouds your chariot; you ride on the wings of the wind.
 You make the winds your messengers *
 and flames of fire your servants.
 You have set the earth upon its foundations, *
 so that it never shall move at any time.
 You covered it with the Deep as with a mantle; *
 the waters stood higher than the mountains.
 At your rebuke they fled; *
 at the voice of your thunder they hastened away.
 They went up into the hills and down to the valleys beneath, *
 to the places you had appointed for them.
 You set the limits that they should not pass; *
 they shall not again cover the earth.
 You send the springs into the valleys; *
 they flow between the mountains.
 All the beasts of the field drink their fill from them, *
 and the wild asses quench their thirst.
 Beside them the birds of the air make their nests *
 and sing among the branches.
 You water the mountains from your dwelling on high; *
 the earth is fully satisfied by the fruit of your works.
 You make grass grow for flocks and herds *
 and plants to serve mankind;
 That they may bring forth food from the earth, *
 and wine to gladden our hearts,
 Oil to make a cheerful countenance, *
 and bread to strengthen the heart.
 The trees of the LORD are full of sap, *
 the cedars of Lebanon which he planted,
 In which the birds build their nests, *
 and in whose tops the stork makes his dwelling.
 The high hills are a refuge for the mountain goats, *
 and the stony cliffs for the rock badgers.
 You appointed the moon to mark the seasons, *
 and the sun knows the time of its setting.
 You make darkness that it may be night, *
 in which all the beasts of the forest prowl.
 The lions roar after their prey *
 and seek their food from God.
 The sun rises, and they slip away *
 and lay themselves down in their dens.
 Man goes forth to his work *
 and to his labor until the evening.

O LORD, how manifold are your works! *
 in wisdom you have made them all; the earth is full of your creatures.
 Yonder is the great and wide sea with its living things too many to number, *
 creatures both small and great.
 There move the ships, and there is that Leviathan, *
 which you have made for the sport of it.
 All of them look to you *
 to give them their food in due season.
 You give it to them; they gather it; *
 you open your hand, and they are filled with good things.
 You hide your face, and they are terrified; *
 you take away their breath, and they die and return to their dust.
 You send forth your Spirit, and they are created; *
 and so you renew the face of the earth.
 May the glory of the LORD endure for ever; *
 may the LORD rejoice in all his works.
 He looks at the earth and it trembles; *
 he touches the mountains and they smoke.
 I will sing to the LORD as long as I live; *
 I will praise my God while I have my being.
 May these words of mine please him; *
 I will rejoice in the LORD.
 Let sinners be consumed out of the earth, *
 and the wicked be no more.
 Bless the LORD, O my soul. *
 Hallelujah!
 Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit: *
 as it was in the beginning, is now, and will be for ever. Amen.

The Lesson

Acts 25:13-27

A Reading from the Acts of the Apostles.

After several days had passed, King Agrippa and Bernice arrived at Caesarea to welcome Festus. Since they were staying there several days, Festus laid Paul's case before the king, saying, "There is a man here who was left in prison by Felix. When I was in Jerusalem, the chief priests and the elders of the Jews informed me about him and asked for a sentence against him. I told them that it was not the custom of the Romans to hand over anyone before the accused had met the accusers face to face and had been given an opportunity to make a defense against the charge. So when they met here, I lost no time, but on the next day took my seat on the tribunal and ordered the man to be brought. When the accusers stood up, they did not charge him with any of the crimes that I was expecting. Instead they had certain points of disagreement with him about their own religion and about a certain Jesus, who had died, but whom Paul asserted to be alive. Since I was at a loss how to investigate these questions, I asked whether he wished to go to Jerusalem and be tried there on these charges. But when Paul had appealed to be kept in custody for the decision of his Imperial Majesty, I ordered him to be held until I could send him to the emperor." Agrippa said to Festus, "I would like to hear the man myself." "Tomorrow," he said, "you will hear him." So on the next day Agrippa and Bernice came with great pomp, and they entered the audience hall with the military tribunes and the prominent men of the city. Then Festus gave the order and Paul was brought in. And Festus said, "King Agrippa and all here present with us, you see this man about whom the whole Jewish community petitioned me, both in Jerusalem and here, shouting that he ought not to live any longer. But I found that he had done nothing deserving death; and when he appealed to his Imperial Majesty, I decided to send him. But I have nothing definite to write to our sovereign about him. Therefore I have brought him before all of you, and especially before you, King Agrippa, so that, after we have examined him, I may have something to write— for it seems to me unreasonable to send a prisoner without indicating the charges against him.”

The Word of the Lord.

Thanks be to God.

9. The First Song of Isaiah

Isaiah 12:2-6

Surely, it is God who saves me; *
I will trust in him and not be afraid.
For the Lord is my stronghold and my sure defense, *
and he will be my Savior.
Therefore you shall draw water with rejoicing *
from the springs of salvation.
And on that day you shall say, *
Give thanks to the Lord and call upon his Name;
Make his deeds known among the peoples; *
see that they remember that his Name is exalted.
Sing the praises of the Lord, for he has done great things, *
and this is known in all the world.
Cry aloud, inhabitants of Zion, ring out your joy, *
for the great one in the midst of you is the Holy One of Israel.
Glory to the Father, and to the Son, and to the Holy Spirit: *
as it was in the beginning, is now, and will be for ever. Amen.

The Collect of the Day

Almighty and everlasting God, you are always more ready to hear than we to pray, and to give more than we either desire or deserve: Pour upon us the abundance of your mercy, forgiving us those things of which our conscience is afraid, and giving us those good things for which we are not worthy to ask, except through the merits and mediation of Jesus Christ our Savior; who lives and reigns with you and the Holy Spirit, one God, for ever and ever. Amen.

A Prayer of St. Chrysostom

BCP p. 102

Almighty God, you have given us grace at this time with one accord to make our common supplication to you; and you have promised through your well-beloved Son that when two or three are gathered together in his Name you will be in the midst of them: Fulfill now, O Lord, our desires and petitions as may be best for us; granting us in this world knowledge of your truth, and in the age to come life everlasting. Amen.

Let us bless the Lord.

Thanks be to God.

Glory to God whose power, working in us, can do infinitely more than we can ask or imagine: Glory to God from generation to generation in the Church, and in Christ Jesus for ever and ever. Amen.
